KEUCO SOMARIS – a clean look for the purist

Mirror cabinet impresses with reduced design and user-friendly operation

Concise, elegant and with many practical features – that is what defines SOMARIS. This mirror cabinet from KEUCO caters specifically to different needs, so it is a true all-rounder for the bathroom.

A match for any lifestyle. The SOMARIS mirror cabinet from KEUCO makes it possible. Its unobtrusively concise design is just as pronounced as the versatility of the individual options it offers in look and technical configurations. Inside awaits an interior with even more attractive features.

A solution for any need, because it can be configured as you like

The KEUCO SOMARIS astonishes with its choice of different side and rear walls. It is available in a mirrored, white or black, and even an oak wood look to suit your taste and complement the bathroom design. It allows you to design timeless bathrooms, reflect contemporary trends like black and white, or create an atmosphere of comfort with woody character. The mirror cabinet's body is made of aluminium. An especially long-lasting material for the bathroom, even after years it still retains its durability.

It comes in many sizes with one, two or three doors. As a special feature, in addition to the classic symmetrical door layout, there is also an asymmetrical version. The SOMARIS is available with different-sized mirror doors, so that when standing in front of the washbasin each day, the mirror surface is split to the side, not in the middle. This gives you an unbroken mirror image, while the user can still open a door.

The KEUCO SOMARIS has a very clean look, not least because of its handleless design. Clear lines harmonise perfectly with the rectilinear style of the bathroom. Precise edges accentuate the mirror cabinet's modern exterior. For a minimal look at the washbasin, a recessed version is available instead of the on-wall version.

Many technical features available

The controls are practically arranged on the underside of the aluminium mirror cabinet. So, it can be operated when either open or closed. Icons on the mirror surface indicate the corresponding buttons. Arranged on the sides, the LED light ensures a perfect illumination of the face. It can also be dimmed to any level. The optional mirror heater guarantees a clear reflection after showering – especially in small or windowless bathrooms. After 20 minutes it automatically switches off again.

Impressive interior features

Inside the reduced look of the body awaits a generous interior. It offers ample storage space, and practical features that make everyday life easier. The glass shelves can be arranged to adapt to the sizes of care products, big and small. An electric socket at the side allows the toothbrush to be charged inside the mirror cabinet. It is protected by a hinged cover, and appears when it is needed. Soft-close hinges ensure a quiet and gentle closing of the doors, even if they are sometimes energetically shut. Thanks to the mirrors on both sides of the doors, it is possible to view yourself from behind.

At an attractive price, the SOMARIS mirror cabinet from KEUCO leaves nothing to be desired.
