

ABOUT US

At Woodmark, we live and breathe veneers. The beauty of wood veneers lies in its unspoiled, natural appearance – the perceived irregularities of natural wood come together to form a harmonious bond. There are no flaws in natural wood, but rather a genuineness in texture that synthetic materials cannot match. For designers, architects, home owners and furniture contractors, it is this beauty that stands out in the eye of the beholder.

Over the years, Woodmark has established a strong clientele of international brands, with its veneers finding their place across world-class hotels, branded boutiques, arts & culture, and luxurious leisure industry.

Embark on a journey of creation and channel your inspirations through us.
