BRAND BRAND VALUES

Passion, Commitment, Innovation, Research, Investments, Materials, Technology, Reliability, Style, Design. These are the various factors that make up the soul of a Composit Kitchen. Behind every model there is a mix of experience of people working with us and the wisdom with which all of these elements are combined in every area of business activity: from idea, to production, to commercial network, to the development of the Brand in the world.

BRAND INNOVATION

The innovation in the product is embodied in a range of avant-garde models from an aesthetic and ergonomic point of view; in the materials, with the selection of the finest essences, in the use of a-toxic paints, in the worktops with high durability and resistance to scratches, heat and water; etc...; constant innovation in processes and production modes covering both the IT area and production with CNC machineries, linked to the technical offices through advanced cad/cam systems.

BRAND SUSTAINABILITY

The actuality of ecological thinking emphasizes for each of us the need to do something right now to preserve our compromised ecosystem. Composit's commitment to sustainability is realized through a series of actions applied daily in the various units, thus contributing to making this concept effective. 10 are good arguments at the center of our production system: Air; Water; Energy; Waste; Paper; Coatings; Materials; Duration; Paints; Home appliances.

CODE

The enveloping atmosphere is given by the perimeter of the boiserie, the fulcrum of the concept of this project which arises from the idea of combining the kitchen and the living area. Code can be considered the final phase of the total look project by Composit, so all the rooms of the house can have a unity of style thanks to containers and boiserie in the same range of materials and finishes.

PEPPER

Pepper was born from the contemporary interpretation of “industrial” kitchen. Original in design, finishes and accessories; it is equipped with a series of friendly and evolved containment and support opportunities. Everything is designed so that gestures in the kitchen are easy and natural, ergonomics is the added value of this project. The absolute protagonist of the kitchen is the 22 mm thick wooden door which has a three-dimensional effect.

BLEND

A project that favors simplicity and whose formal cleanliness does not exclude a visual impact of great scenographic effect: the design created by the thin frame of the doors that creates a graphic and modular element on the facade, the absence of handles, the new design elements. Blend is also an abacus of materials, the essence is shown with visible grains and color changes where the wood returns to express its scenic vocation and allows you to create your own favorite customization.

CÉLINE

In the eternal return of fashions, today, the framed door is experiencing a new era from which contemporary contexts take benefit. Céline is an elegant kitchen collection that updates the past and whose door becomes the common thread for the whole environment.

Céline proposes a framed door with a 45° bevel to mark the space of the facades, while the door with a straight frame takes the name of Céline Art. For both types, the rigorous surface of the doors is enriched by the volume of an important handle, creating a highly personalized kitchen.
